

GDL Michelle Murad Panel Talk

All right our next guest our next woman on the women and media panel is Michelle Murad who she just interviewed me on Good Day Live If you haven't seen it it's the only daytime daily streaming talk show I know some of you ladies have been on it but Michelle is fabulous and you know and just such a bundle of energy So it's nice to have you It's great to be here Thank you So Michelle has been creating content since she was seven years old as a little girl She'd set up a camera in her parents' basement and film the Michelle show It was a daily talk show that she made just like she's doing now And on the side she would film a show called Days of Our Barbie Lives Did she know when she was that She was preparing for her future Michelle is an alum of UC a professional program of writing for television acting for the camera and most recently producing she produced created wrote and started the Charlotte Chronicles which you have to stay for the cash and grows film block as we're going to see the Charlotte Chronicles I've seen one of episodes I think But and your your partner in crime Kyle True Blood is coming He plays hot guy Not that he is a hot guy but he plays a hot guy He's a hot guy and also your cohost on Good Day Live cohost on the So he will be here tonight as well And then shortly after Charlotte Michelle co-creator with Andy Waldman who is here filming tonight Thank you Andy Good Day live with Kyle with Michelle and Kyle She gets top billing a variety talk show that she currently hosts produces and interviews alongside Kyle and with incredible people doing incredible things So thank you And if anybody has a project talk to Andy and talk to Michelle because I mean it's a great way to promote your projects It's a great way to have a team of people who know how to make something around your ideas If you have a script if you're a real influencer you know meet these people because they know how to make it happen Michelle Mira who's a wonderful producer and I know coming from television producing that she's gonna be a great one because she just gets it done Um She has the energy that I used to have but I'm gonna sit down because I anymore So uh tell me about how you created your daily streaming talk show and now you're in the process of expanding this into a bigger company Um So tell me about that and then and then we'll go into what's next Well first of all I have to say this is a dream come true I'm like this is unreal to me on so many levels hearing all of your bios and like all that you've done I literally it has taken a journey to get to this process So I'm just so happy to be here first of all Um So in 2020 I was still a nanny for a very high profile family And I was like I cannot believe I am still doing this I was you know going out for roles I was uh getting things here and there but nothing was clicking UCLA I went back to school for writing and um producing I just was like what am I supposed to do with my life I cannot be a nanny at in 2020 This is insane And I got the word which is weird because I never really stopped talking um was to write And so I wrote the Charlotte Chronicles um which uh with our cast members that are here gave them so much Shout out they can't they're just incredible people Very very first produced series It all happened because I adopted a dog and uh I her name was Muffin and I wanted to call her Charlotte and my sister-in-law uh was on Zoom and she looked at me and her face went white and she started to freak out she was pregnant and she wanted to name her baby Charlotte And that is the beginning of the Charlotte Chronicles which is really what happens But you have to stay tuned to see how that works anyway Long story short I was like this is how it's gonna happen For me Everyone's gonna see Charlotte Chronicles I'm gonna be this huge star I I know this is how it's supposed to be because everything was effortless And then as you all know there's a wall and I'm like OK what do I do I cannot be a nanny again So I go on Craigslist and I type in host and up pops this opportunity to be an Amazon live host and I uh met Andy Waldman who was right there and he basically said OK so you're just gonna go up there and talk for 90 minutes and that's it And I talked for 90 minutes had a story for everything and I just kept talking talking talking talking talking and talking and talking and talking some more And I was like I love this And so and he was like wow you're pretty good at this And I was like I love this Can I do more of this And uh so then we came up with AAA morning show and we tested uh the hot guy who is my co-host Kyle Trueblood who's not here which is shocking but he'll be here later Um And we just had great onscreen chemistry on Charlotte and have great onscreen chemistry with our daily talk show Um And the rest is history We hit 100 episodes on last week Congratulations so much having me Well thanks for being here
